Kathy Luff

Date of Birth 1949

Introduction After a long career as a senior manager in BT I was able to take voluntary redundancy in 1992. I then started training as a calligrapher - and in 2003 was accepted onto the prestigious Advanced Training Scheme of the Society of Scribes and Illuminators, graduating in 2005. I had been running my business as a professional calligrapher since May 2001. In 2003/4 I had one-to-one lessons in bookbinding and have added hand made books, journals and albums to my client offerings.

Education 1971 BA (Hons) Psychology 2005 graduate of Society of Scribes and Illuminators Advanced training Scheme.

Commissions All my work is commissioned - I earn my living as a professional calligrapher and bookbinder. 2005 - Visitors book for "Passione" Italian restaurant, Charlotte St. London 2006 - Visitors book for "Thalassa Hotel" Greece 2006 - Visitors book for "Village End" Guesthouse. All these commission had hand painted hard bound covers including lettering.

Maker's statement I make an exciting range of hand made books, journals and albums, using a variety of beautiful papers, book cloths and fabrics in a range of binding styles. They can be commissioned for special events and inscribed by hand - I am also a professional calligrapher. I source materials from around the world including hand made papers from Italy and the Far East. Many of my books have plain pages for the commissioning client to add their own content but as a professional calligrapher I also offer wedding albums with inscribed front pages; journals printed with my own calligraphy and illustrations; specialist books such as wine diaries, personalised cookery books, and family record journals. Because I offer calligraphy and illustration as well as book binding I have been commissioned to make a number of individual Visitors books for restaurants and Hotels. In additions to the books, I also can make matching boxes or slip covers to keep them in. Studio visits are welcome.
